

The Veto.

Mr. HAYES'S veto of the immediate delivery bill is wholly inexcusable. It is the most damaging act of his administration. He not only knows, but undoubtedly admits in his veto message, that the Republicans have done the same thing which he objects to in the Democratic. In fact, they have taken on general legislation to appropriate bills in many hundreds of cases when they had control of both branches of Congress.

We have never before joined in the cry that Mr. HAYES is a hypocrite, but we are forced to confess that this last message stamps him as such. He objects to allowing judges to appoint supervisors of election. He objects to having any deputy marshals who are Democrats. These are his real reasons for vetoing the bill.

We expected that the President would excuse his act by promising to approve the provisions in question if they were not attached to an appropriation bill but embodied in a separate bill. But we were disappointed. He says only that he will consider such a bill when it is presented to him.

Yes, Mr. HAYES is undoubtedly a hypocrite. His real reasons for vetoing the deficiency bill are not the pretended ones which he sets forth in his message.

Illinois.

General LEWIS, the CAMERON of Illinois, has taken himself to that State to see that the cause of General GRANT shall suffer no detriment at the hands of the zealous BLAINE men. It is this second visit to Illinois within a month, and is thought to indicate a fear on his part that General GRANT is in danger of losing the vote of his own State in a National Convention to be held in that State. It is very remarkable that Mr. BLAINE should be able to press General GRANT so hard in Illinois. State pride alone generally suffices to secure the vote of a State for a favorite son of that State. But State pride and all other considerations have failed to make Illinois unanimous for the third term. We must admit, however, that the General seems to have gained upon the Senator up to last Saturday. But on Monday the Maine candidate rather gained upon the Hoosier. Our last report left the figures as follows: For BLAINE, 117; for GRANT, 97; for WASHBURN, 9. Several counties appointed delegates on Monday, and on that night the figures stood: For BLAINE, 144; for GRANT, 104; for WASHBURN, 9. This last statement includes one county that voted for BLAINE last week, but whose vote we did not count because we did not know how many delegates it had elected.

This is a good showing for Mr. BLAINE. But General GRANT is now in Illinois, and his friends are moving heaven and earth to secure the State Convention for him. He aids by "receiving" as many "receptions" as possible. We don't know what is to be the result. The GRANT men are very confident. The trouble, we suppose, will be to get the BLAINE delegates to Chicago to obey instructions even if instructed to vote for GRANT.

Where can be found finer school-rooms, where better teachers, than those in Richmond? Let us not ruin the former, nor mortify the latter, by introducing a discordant element. Let us be content with doing so very well.

Road to Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday says there is a prospect of the early completion of the Cincinnati, Ohio River and Virginia railroad. This road will run to Huntington upon the north side of the Ohio river; whereas the road which the Chesapeake and Ohio Company is now constructing from Huntington is to be upon the south side of that river. The prospect of the construction of the latter has no doubt stirred up Cincinnati to the importance of having a railroad leading from Richmond to that city. With both a Kentucky and an Ohio connection, the Chesapeake and Ohio will become a grand line once. The Commercial says:

A meeting of leading citizens and capitalists was held in this city on Friday, and steps taken to inaugurate the movement which contemplates rail connections with the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and the coal-fields. The determination of the Chesapeake and Ohio interests to establish rail connection with Cincinnati gives at this time new interest and additional value to this movement, which, while quick, is feasible and effective. The possibility of our neighbors at Portsmouth and Fronton switching off on a project in the interest of the Seoto Valley, which would injure this connection by the establishment of a weak and unfriendly link in the line, precipitates action earlier than intended. The question upon which the enterprise is being launched and the connections insured leaves no reasonable doubt of success.

To move Richmond towards a large population and abounding prosperity.

We have reasons satisfactory to ourselves for what we have said about Judge FIELD. We know that his friends in Washington have spent money in causing articles favorable to him to be printed in the newspapers; and he is not so innocent as to be staying in Washington at the same time, without being aware of the fact. We think this conduct reprehensible in a Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. If our neighbor thinks differently, we have no objection to make to his saying so.

We have not said nor intimated that Judge FIELD or his friends had hired editors to express opinions not their own; and the Commonwealth wrongs itself to raise such a question. We do not think that the editor of that paper is open to such insinuations. On the contrary, we have the utmost confidence in his sincerity and integrity. We do not see his face so frequently as we used to see it before he became one of the editorial fraternity; but we know of no reason why he should not. He may rest assured that though we are not in favor of sending him to Cincinnati to advocate Judge FIELD's nomination, we shall not set him down as a bad man because he is not for SEYMOUR.

THE BUREAU.—The Washington correspondent of the Washington Register says: "Judge Field has great merit and much strength as a presidential candidate, and his case with a good deal of energy and judgment. He would undoubtedly make a first-class President."

"His excellent organization," I suppose, however, had an excellent organization to work for his nomination.

Ohio elects her congressmen this year in October—a month before the presidential election. It GRANT be the Republican nominee Ohio will certainly vote the Democratic ticket in October, and then farewell to all hopes of a third term.

The Public Schools.

The City Council voted, wisely on Monday night in appropriating $15,000 for the purpose of enlarging the accommodations for the public schools. It would never do to allow the impression to be made upon the minds of the thousands of voters who send, and desire to send, their children to these schools, that the education that are the devoted friends of education than are the Conservatives. We would that every voter in Richmond could visit the school-houses and see for himself what an immense power for good is entrusted to the teachers of the young whom the city employs to teach the young idea how to shoot.

We know that there are some amongst our best citizens who are not friendly to our public-school system. We give them credit for perfect sincerity. We are inclined to think that if they would attend for a week the school sessions which they take place in June every year in the Theatre and in other public buildings they would be convinced that no other money which they spend so well invested as that which they contribute to the support of the public schools.

How much do these most excellent schools cost? Let it suffice to answer that an annual tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars' worth of property would, we are told, enable the School Board not only to accommodate all the children now seeking and unable to obtain admission into the public schools, but to construct such new buildings as may from time to time be rendered necessary by the increase in the population of the city.

The Elections.

It is best to vote at the primary election whether you are particularly interested in the election of any of the candidates or not. The election will be held by as reputable men as in Richmond. The voting will be otherwise—that is, each voter's name will be called out, and then also the names of the candidates for whom he votes. The election will be fair and open. Not only will there be no disposition manifested to secure the success of any candidates, but there will be no opportunity afforded for any sort of partiality.

If a large vote is polled at the primary election we shall have less trouble at the regular election. Its magnitude will deter the Mongrels from putting out candidates. The very small vote cast for General JOHNSON at the primary election of 1878 for congressman induced Mr. NEWMAN, the Greenback candidate, to build high hopes upon the prospect of carrying this city. That he failed ignominiously, and met a merited defeat, though supported by the MAHONEY party and its organ, will not prevent the same party and its organ from crowding lustily if no more voters turn out on the 13th than did on that occasion.

Give the Redjackets a hard kick upon the 13th, and they won't need so much "killing" on the 27th.

What city can boast of better policemen than Richmond? Let us keep these faithful servants where they are. Vote against a mixed police.

GRANT CAN'T CARRY OHIO.—The Cincinnati Commercial does not mince its words. Hear how it talks out in meeting:

We feel authorized to say to all concerned that if Grant is nominated at Chicago, Ohio will not go for the third-term party, either in October or November. We believe Hamilton county would give a majority of five or six thousand votes against the third-term ticket.

Ohio is a Republican State, but not a third-term Grant State. Will the desperadoes who are determined to drive with the Republican party into a candidacy utterly inconsistent with Republicanism, take notice before it is too late?

We know as much about Hamilton-county politics as anybody, and we are absolutely free to speak out the whole truth, irrespective of names, for no nomination will bind us only so far as we approve them, and we think it the proper thing to speak plainly before the forks of the road are reached.

SEYMOUR IN CONNECTICUT.—The Manchester (N. H.) Union says:

"The mention of Horatio Seymour's name aroused more enthusiasm than that of any other in the Connecticut Democratic State Convention. The recent canvass of the members of the Legislature in the State capital, the delegation chosen is without exception, and although some of the delegates are warm friends of Mr. Tilden, the claim that the delegation as such is for Tilden is absurd."

Wonderful man. He is not a candidate, he doesn't want to be a candidate, but people seem bent upon making him one. And he won't decline, he can't decline such an honor—an unsolicited honor.

Let us select one more President who does not seek the office.

The following is from an editorial in yesterday's Commonwealth:

"The Dispatch may have information upon this subject which we do not possess; but we will say that we have known of no friends of Judge Field, prudent or imprudent, who have proposed to run him as a candidate upon any opinions of his dissenting from the decrees of the Supreme Court."

The following is from L. Q. W.'s letter in the same:

"I know of no bureau. The only possible basis for such a statement is that some of the friends of Judge Field have taken steps to have his dissenting opinions printed and largely circulated."

Those opinions were "printed and largely circulated" for some purpose. What was that purpose?

What city can point to better public schools than Richmond? Let us keep them as they are. Vote against mixed schools.

We return thanks to Senator WITHERS and General JOHNSON for public documents.
